Operated on 10 Days Ago, David Has Party Today

David Beck is seven years old today. Just ten days ago he was taken to the Sanborne hospital in Pomona in the middle of the night for an emergency appendectomy operation.

"My birthday party is all off," David concluded last week. But he made such a splendid recovery that this afternoon he was permitted to invite his second grade class at the Upland Elementary school and his teacher, Miss Lulu Pickett, to come to his home for ice cream and cake. He remained in bed, but enjoyed the party as much as if he had been up.

His mother, Mrs. Ruth Beck, assisted by Mrs. Frank Wiley, served refreshments at the Beck home, located a block east of Upland Elementary school on Arrow highway.

LOUDON DISCUSSES LOCAL PROBLEMS

Congressional Candidate Is Speaker at Campaign Meeting Here

Lotus Loudon, Republican candidate for Congress from this district, lives in Orange county but he hasn't any designs for getting San Bernardino county water to help his home area.

"I will represent the entire district," emphatically declared the candidate, when he spoke in the Upland Elementary school auditorium Wednesday night. He discussed the water situation and reiterated the statement that if he were sent to Washington he would impartially serve everyone and every section in the Congressional district.

MAKES ONE PROMISE

Mr. Loudon, whose frank, straight - forward manner of speaking apparently captivated the audience, said he would make only one promise "and keep it".

"I promise to be fair, honest, a hard worker and represent to the best of my ability the interests of the entire district," said the speaker, in concluding his principal campaign address in Upland.

Robert Berg, president of the Upland unit of the Republican Assembly, presided and effectively presented Mr. Loudon. An orchestra directed by Herbert C. Hall entertained preceding the candidate's address.

A. B. Hornibrook, assembly candidate, was introduced. Earl E. Marsh, who is directing the Republican campaign in this county, made announcements of meetings.

Mr. Loudon discussed national issues and endorsed a program to make this country powerful defensively. He said he would oppose any move to send U. S. soldiers to any other continent.

TELLS OF WILLKIE

Mr. Loudon, who was with Wendell L. Willkie during the Republican presidential candidate's tour through San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties, gave an interesting report on a close-up contact with the G. O. P. leader. It was also reported that Mr. Willkie introduced Mr. Loudon as the man he wanted in Congress from this district.

For many years Mr. Loudon has been publisher of the Anaheim Bulletin. He has served his community, county and the southland in various capacities and his high standing is indicated by the large complimentary vote given him in the recent primaries. He was unopposed for the Republican nomination.

GROWERS TO HEAR OF BETTER RETURNS AT ANNUAL MEETING

Upland Citrus Association in Annual Meeting Tomorrow

Upland Citrus association members will hear tomorrow, at their annual meeting, that the 1939-40 Navel and Valencia orange season was better than a year ago. While the 1939-40 returns do not represent a banner year, some encouragement is felt.

Meeting at 9:30 a. m., approximately 350 persons will gather at the packing house to hear the annual report of Manager Alvin Fitzgerald.

George Laidlaw, who has served as president of the association for 15 years will preside. Annual election of officers is scheduled.

A turkey dinner will be served at 12 o'clock by packing house employes in the packing house.

Upland Citrus, pioneer cooperative house, was first organized in 1897. Therefore, the meeting tomorrow possesses historic significance, being probably the forty-second annual meeting that the association has held.

Mr. Lorbeer has worked for over 20 years in India. He has served as manager of the high and training schools at Pasumalai in which position he comes in close contact constantly with hundreds of Indian boys and young men. "Nowhere in the world are such varied groups being wielded into a nation as there are in India," he says.

Mrs. Lorbeer, formerly of Upland, is the sister of E. W. Henry.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorbeer have been on furlough here for more than a year and they are returning to India for another seven years.

Their daughter will enter Pasadena Junior college and will make her home with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Lorbeer in Pasadena. Ernest will stay in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Birdsall, West Fifth street in Ontario, while attending Chaffey high school.

BETTER STREETS IN UPLAND SOON

Resurfacing Is Underway on Many Local Avenues This Week

Better streets in Upland and its environs will result from work being done at present. City of Upland is paving Third avenue between A street and Arrow highway. On First avenue, the portion between A street and Ninth street has been resurfaced, and the work is to continue north to Eleventh street. Eleventh street will also be paved between Euclid and Campus avenues.

Additional improvements which will be greatly appreciated by the residents in the outlying area include the paving of Eleventh, Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets between Mountain and Benson avenues. These roads have been torn up because of installation of flood control lines.

Another major improvement will be the paving of Benson avenue, which is being done by the county road department from the Pacific Electric tracks as far north as Fifteenth street. A portion of this work has already been completed. The major portion of Benson avenue is badly in need of improvement.

HORSE-AND-BUGGY DAYS GOOD ENOUGH FOR SMITH

Dobbin has not been completely supplanted by the automobile, an incident in Upland this week proved.

Burton A. Smith of Ontario, who still hitches up "Bill" to a what was once a "swanky" carriage, whenever he wants to go places, came to Upland to get some harness repaired.

Standing patiently in the alley outside W. F. Dettweiler's shop, was "Bill". Since hitching posts have long since disappeared from Upland streets, a weight, attached by a leather strap to "Bill's" halter reminded the horse that he must wait patiently while his master was in the harness shop.

"Bill is the best behaved horse in the world," according to Mr. Smith. "He seldom misbehaves. The other day, though, I did have to punish him. I had him hitched outside the house, and he started to roll. I struck him, but apologized to him the next minute."

Although Ontario has grown so that the residential section now surrounds the Smith home and barn at 547 East E street, Mr. Smith still keeps two horses in the stables. He uses the horses for grove work on his ranch at Sixth and Mountain avenue.

Mr. Smith once almost succumbed to the automotive age. In fact, he owned a car for two years, but during that time he did not learn to drive, so he concluded he might as well sell the auto. His wife, for several years before her death, refused to ride in the buggy, he said.

"When I get ready to retire, I'll hang out a sign offering rides behind Bill at 10 cents per person," promises the advocate of horse-and-buggy transportation.

H. M. GUY AGAIN HEADS ROLL CALL

Upland Chapter Red Cross Holds Quarterly Meeting

H. M. Guy will serve as Red Cross Roll Call chairman for the annual drive which starts Nov. 11 and ends Nov. 30, it was announced following a quarterly meeting of the Upland chapter, Red Cross board yesterday morning at the library. Mrs. J. F. Sawyer will be assistant Roll Call chairman.

Four or five cars of delegates expect to represent the Upland chapter at the regional Red Cross convention in Long Beach on Oct. 24, it was reported.

Cost of supplying milk to undernourished children at the Sierra Vista school amounts to about $11 a month, it was reported. It was decided to continue tonsilectomies as in the past. Last year the Red Cross paid for 15 of these operations.

Mrs. H. W. Flowers, production chairman, still has yarn for knitters. A large supply of yardage and yarn is expected soon, however.

Mrs. Lottie Fuller, welfare chairman, sent her report of the work which she has done. That she is carrying on the welfare work she has handled for many years, in a splendid manner from her home, was indicated.

Present were Mrs. Mary Eckerman, Mrs. O. A. Thompson, Mrs. H. W. Flowers, Mrs. O. K. Granger, Mrs. Douglas Sage, Mrs. J. F. Sawyer, Mrs. R. C. Norton, Mrs. A. C. Beattie, Mrs. S. M Jessup, O. H. Price, Etiwanda, Mrs. F H. Manker, Mrs. T. M. Nichols, Mrs. V. H. Wilson, Mrs. Franklin Baxter, Mrs. Minnie Goodrich, Mrs. D. J. Burlingame, Glenn Atwood and H. M. Guy.

ELECTION WILL NOT AFFECT INDIVIDUALS

W. W. Mather Sees Small Difference No Matter Who's Elected

"It will make little difference whether Roosevelt or Willkie is elected, as far as the effect on our individual daily lives is concerned," declared W. W. Mather, of Chaffey junior college when he spoke to the Upland Business and Professional Women's club last night at the meeting at the Upland Women's clubhouse.

"Willkie, in his acceptance speech, pledged himself to continue the New Deal policies, only to do them better."

Furthermore, the speaker believes that our foreign policy will not be changed, materially, whether a Repubican or Democratic administration is in power.

"I am not alarmed at the national debt,' said Mr. Mather. "In every previous depression except the last, the top-heavy debt structure was lopped off. The present national debt in part represents a transfer of the debt of private companies to the government."

Loss of individual liberty is forecast for the next 100 years, by Mr. Mather.

In analyzing propositions on the November 5 ballot, Mr. Mather said the state is operating under a constitution which was suited to the horse-and-buggy era. Elimination of the intricate matters submitted to California voters is only possible if a new constitution is adopted.

Miss Lucille Stipe was program chairman. Two vocal solos by Miss Bonnie Linsley were enjoyed.

Table decorations carried out the political theme, with red and blue donkeys and elephants arranged at intervals on the tables. A large bouquet of red and white dahlias centered the head table.

Mrs. William Gilliland, president, presided. Announcement was made by Mrs. Harry Plum of the district convention in Riverside, Oct. 26 and 27. New members include Mrs. Clara Jacobs and Mrs. Jewell Teuscher.

Guests present at the dinner were Mrs. H. M. Busch, Mrs. Smith, Miss Dorothy Gunn, Mrs. Welton Smith, Mrs. Ethel Moorehouse, and Miss Bonney Linsley.

The meeting place of the November meeting is to be decided by the club board.

PANTHERS READY FOR FIRST GAME

Jaysee Meets San Bernardino Tonight on Chaffey Gridiron

It's off tonight.

Orange Empire football conference gets under way with a real battle when Chaffey entertains San Bernardino junior college. For 24 years the rivals have been battling at each other and tonight's onsalught will be anything but a mild affair.

The game will open at 8 p.m. Before the kick-off time, however, the throng of rooters will see the colorful Chaffey band and drill team perform.

The Panthers are ready with Coach Bert Heiser's squad being among the strongest in the conference and up to the power of the 1939 champions. A capacity crowd is anticipated.

Not many players of 1939 are on this year's eleven and so many new names will be listed on the roster. Harry Muns, the line's most formidable star, will lead the defensive attack, Frank Brennan, Upland, a former Chaffey high star, may start at end. 700 ALIEN FORMS GIVEN OUT HERE

Only 210 Complete Federal Requirements So Far, Is Report

Although 700 preliminary forms were given out for alien registration at the Upland post office, only 210 have completed the required finger-printing and filled out the four necessary forms, it was announced this week.

An effort is being made by the office to complete as many alien registrations as possible before the deadline on December 26. In view of the Christmas rush, which always taxes post office personnel to the limit, it is hoped that aliens will not delay until the last minute.

Mr., Mrs. Howarton Return From Conclave

Pioneer Tradition Of Generations in Hewitt Background

A tradition of generations of pioneers came to an end last Sunday in the passing of Mrs. Josephine Hewitt, 90 years old, 473 West street.

It was 58 years ago that Mrs. Hewitt and her husband, Frank Hewitt, lived in Pasadena, when it was a little village. Their home on Wilson street is now a part of the Pasadena business district.

From Pasadena the couple went to San Joaquin valley, where they pioneered in the development of a dairy farm. They returned to Upland 32 years ago.

Mrs. Hewitt's brother, Otho Furlong, who lives at 473 West street, recalled the first "root" of the family tree. A young Irish couple, only 14 years of age, ran away and came to Hagerstown, Md. Joseph Allen, one of the ancestors, purchased the entire Allen township in Pennsylvania from Joseph Penn, brother of William Penn.

Miss Cecilie Austin, daughter of Mrs. Emily J. Austin of West Twentieth street, is attending Girls Collegiate school in Claremont, having entered the junior class.

$3,000 IS GOAL IN UNITED DRIVE FOR COMMUNITY

John W. Shepperson, who on many occasions has shown his interest in civic and community affairs, has accepted the responsibility of directing Upland's second annual community welfare drive. He was scheduled to meet this afternoon with other leaders in the movement and definitely plan the campaign.

Goal of $3,000 has been fixed, this being a $500 reduction from the 1939-40 goal.

Agencies participating in the proceeds of the campaign will be the Boys Work, the Girls Work, Junior Welfare League and the free baby fund at the San Antonio Community hospital.

Rather than for each agency to conduct its own drive and thus make separate appeals to Uplanders for support, the combined drive is planned. Results were successful last year and under Mr. Shepperson's direction the campaign this year will be outstanding, in the opinion of those in touch with the organizations.

Harland P. Horak is treasurer of the combined drive.

Francis Line Tells Lions of Oriental Trip, Experiences

Twenty-five thousand miles was the extent of the recent trip made by Francis Line during his long jaunt into the Far East and he told of some of his experiences at the meeting of the Upland Lions club at noon yesterday. Throughout his interesting address he told of the important role played by the airplane.

He also discussed customs of the natives in the Dutch East Indies, of their changed attitude because of the war and of the changes in their mode of living brought by the airplane.

Guam, a tiny island owned by the U. S. and a possible site for new fortifications, was described as being surrounded by Japan-owned islands.

Moving pictures were made by the traveler and the first showing of a film on the Oriental trip will be Oct. 24 in the Chaffey auditorium.

Bundle Tea Held as Shop Benefit Is Big Success

Approximately 130 women of the community gathered Wednesday at Red Hill Country club for the bundle tea given by the Upland Junior Welfare League as a benefit for the League's Welfare shop, and the event was a gratifying success.

Each guest brought as her "admission ticket" a bundle of used clothing and the large collection of garments thus obtained will be added to the stock in the Welfare shop, where the clothing will be sold at very small cost to those who cannot pay the price of new clothing.

The tea also was a delightful social affair, featuring a very splendid book reviewed by Mrs. Harry L. Seares of Ontario.

The three books selected by Mrs. Seares for her review were "Father Was an Editor" (Joshua K. Bolles), "Vantage Point" (Hilda Morris) and Mrs. Miniver" (Jan Struthers), and her interpretations, cleverly presented, held the close attention of her audience.

The tea hour, from 4 to 5 o'clock, was a happy time for the guests. Tea was served at a table graced with pink and white flowers and tall candles, Mrs. Nelson A. Gray and Miss Daisy Latimer, presiding.

Hostesses for the tea party were Mrs. A. A. Aita, shop chairman, and Mrs. Lloyd M. Dickens, assistant.

Although the contributions received Wednesday will be a real boon to the shop, still the demand for used clothing is so great that other donations will be needed and will be welcomed by the shop committee at any time.

Upland Woman's Club Opens New Season With Luncheon Meeting and Musical Program That Delights Large Audience

With no small part of the pleasure of the occasion being afforded by the re-assembling of friends following the four months of inactivity of the club, the first autumn meeting of the Upland Woman's club was held Tuesday in the club house on North Second avenue, approximately 90 members and several guests being in attendance.

Providing an appropriate setting for the event, one that blended well with the delightful musical program selected for the afternoon's entertainment, the special floral decorations drew the admiration of everyone.

Using quantities of gorgeous dahlias generously given by Mrs. Etta Johnston from her prolific gardens, Mrs. William Atchley achieved an especially artistic floral arrangement. Large baskets of the favored blossoms were used throughout the auditorium and the lounges and smaller bouquets of the dahlias graced the long tables at which an excellent luncheon was served at 12:30.

Mrs. Donald E. Hill, elected to the presidency for a second term last spring, presided in her usual gracious manner and, after the opening ceremony, she extended a welcome to the members and guests.

During the short business session, Mrs. Hill told of the new Red Cross department added to the club activities, and presented Mrs. Mary Eckerman, head of the Upland Red Cross chapter, and Mrs. Harry W. Flowers, in charge of production, both of whom will serve as club chairmen.

Mrs. Eckerman told of the vast war relief work being done by the Red Cross and stated all relief material is now being sent by the Red Cross directly to England.

Mrs. Flowers stated a new supply of materials for sewing and knitting soon will be received and many volunteer workers will be needed.

Mrs. Hill also requested Mrs. Emily J. Austin to tell of the work of the British War Relief association. Mrs. Austin explained what the new association is doing in gathering up and shipping to England good used clothing for the destitute war victims, including refugees from other devastated countries; also canned goods and new clothing and hospital supplies made by the members. She asked for volunteers to help with the sewing and bandages each Tuesday.

Mrs. Hill expressed the hope that the club women will respond generously.

Mrs. J. F. Sawyer, chairman of the house committee, told of the purchase of a new range for the club house kitchen, describing its size as "16 pie capacity".

As chairman of the ways and means committee, Mrs. Lloyd A. Fox told of a public dinner to be given in the evening of Oct. 18 and of other ways and means events planned to raise money to pay for the fine stove and for other purposes.

Mrs. Emily J. Austin, membership chairman, had the privilege of introducing the new members, including Mrs. Roy R. Ray, a returned member; Mrs. Henry M. Busch, Mrs. Lowell Bartlett, Mrs. Elizabeth Kingsbury, Mrs. A. F. Richardson, Mrs. Carl Nicholson, Mrs. Michael Goldman, Mrs. W. F. Tyler, Mrs. Robert Stump and Mrs. D. J. Roseberg, all of whom were presented with corsages. Dr. Lilian F. Baxter and Mrs. John Barr, two new members returning to the club this year, were unable to be present.

Presented by Mrs. J. Emery Sargent, the club's program chairman who has succeeded in arranging a series of excellent programs for the year, the entertainers, the Highlanders male quartet, delighted the audience with one of the best musical programs the club ever has enjoyed.

Members of the quartet, all of whom possess highly trained voices of remarkable appeal, are Harry Reid, William Stewart, Arthur Waters and Richard Brown. Their talented pianist and accompanist was Miss Etheleen Brown.

Opening their program with the "The Lord's Prayer" (Malotte) the vocalists sang in the first group 'Stouthearted Men," a Romberg operetta number; "Only a Rose" from "The Vagabond King," and "One Alone" from the "Desert Song," concluding with a lively college song, "Vive L' Amor."

Two bariton solos, "My Wonderful One" and "Ich Liebe Dich" (Grieg), were sung by Richard Brown and the quartet followed with "Just a Wearyin' for You" and "Out of the Night."

These numbers were followed by a piano solo "Claire d' Lune" (Debussy), played by Miss Brown.

Harry Reid sang as solos "Guns" by O'Hara and "Compensation" by Rand, and other numbers by the quartet were "Rollin' Down to Rio," "Away to the Southard," "Bound for the Rio Grande," and a group of Negro folk songs and spirituals. The concluding number was "God Bless America," with the audience joining in the singing.

Hostesses for the very successful meeting were Mrs. Emily J. Austin and Mrs. Franklin M. Baxter and their October committee.

DR. WHITE THINKS ORIENTAL CRISIS IGNITING WORLD

Two Wars Destined to Become One War in Britain-Japan Conflict

"What is the significance of the present crisis in the Orient?"

Dr. F. J. White, who spent almost 34 years in China, serving as president of the University of Shanghai (a Baptist school of 1,000 students), during part of that time, sees in the conflict the link which will draw the war in China and the war in Europe together—making what has been two wars one war.

That Japan will attack Hong Kong and possibly even the well fortified port of Singapore, is likely, in the opinion of the retired educator.

However, as long as China is able to receive any munitions at all, she will not be defeated. Even if the capital city of Chungking should be captured, it is not likely that the Japanese would be able to conquer northwest China, or Communist China, believes Dr. White.

U. S. INVOLVED

The situation in the Orient is more than a contemplated war between Great Britain and Japan, however, says Dr. White. The United States figures conspicuously in the picture, since it is exports of scrap iron, oil and copper from this country which have fed Japan's war machine. Without American exports, Japan is destined to collapse, he believes. Furthermore, "the United States could have averted the entire war in China by an embargo," he says.

The present move to require all Americans to return to this country and to leave the Orient will not succeed in the removal of all Americans, he thinks.

PHILIPPINES NEAR

"Not many of the missionaries will leave. Many other persons remain, also. Because of the nearness of the Philippine Islands, Americans feel that in a short

Why Willkie Instead of Roosevelt?

Following is, in the main, the editorial in which the New York Times, perhaps the country's most influential newspaper, abandoned its long-time stand in support of Democratic Presidents generally and Franklin D. Roosevelt particularly and came out for Wendell Willkie:

The New York Times supported Franklin D. Roosevelt for the Presidency in 1932 and again in 1936. In 1940 it will support Wendell Willkie.

It has made its choice, as all Americans must make their choice, in one of the great crises of this nation's history. The liberties of the American people are in danger. A hostile power, openly proclaiming its hatred of the democratic way of life, has swept across Europe and is now battering at the gates of England, seeking to grasp the eastern approaches to that Atlantic world in which our own democracy has lived and prospered.

We give our own support to Mr. Willkie primarily for these reasons: Because we believe that he is better equipped than Mr. Roosevelt to provide this country with an adequate national defense; because we believe he is a practical liberal who understands the need of increased production; because we believe that the fiscal policies of Mr. Roosevelt have failed disastrously; because we believe that at a time when the traditional safeguards of democracy are falling everywhere it is particularly important to honor and preserve the American tradition against vesting the enormous powers of the Presidency in the hands of any man for three consecutive terms of office.

I. DEFENSE OF THE UNITED STATES

In the field of national defense we recognize that Mr. Roosevelt has taken a number of necessary steps, all of which have had our wholehearted indorsement, both before he was ready to take them and later, when he had acted.

But there are a number of other equally important steps which Mr. Roosevelt has not taken. He has withheld power from the Advisory Commission and made it a mere consultative agency, unable on its own authority to cut the endless red tape in Washington. He has kept power for himself, tried to be his own defense administrator and retained in his own hands control over too many details of a defense program which still lacks central planning. He has seemed to regard the whole business of defense as a sideshow to the ordinary activities of the country, requiring no fundamental change in the habits of the American people and no revision of any of the policies of his administration. We find Mr. Willkie's early call for sacrifice, for hard work, "sweat and toil", more reassuring that Mr. Roosevelt's cheerful confidence that we need not let ourselves become "discomboomerated" by the task that lies before us.

But all these points, important as they are, only touch the surface of the matter. At bottom, adequate national defense means much more than airplanes, tanks and cannon, even when all of these are actually on hand and not just "on order". It means a nation strong in its economic health and power, with a thriving industry, full employment, both of man power and of money, new capital flowing vigorously into new channels of production. It means, in short, a nation with gigantic industrial force behind its Army and its Navy.

The record shows that Mr. Roosevelt has achieved least success in the solution of this very problem. He has failed to create the conditions for a confident and expanding business. It is a reasonable assumption that this same problem can be managed better by a man who understands business, who has the confidence of business, who has himself been a part of business, whose interest in business problems has been firsthand and continuous rather than casual and intermittent, and whose experience includes a successful personal record in stimulating business and expanding industrial production.

II. LIBERALISM AND REFORM

Mr. Willkie has affirmed his own belief in the necessity of reform and his own support of the major reforms of the Roosevelt administrations. Because of this he has been attacked by the President's friends as a mere plagiarist who is now attempting to steal the New Deal's thunder, and an impostor who is trying to run "on the President's own program". This is a curious attitude for the President's friends to take. It is a curious attitude, because it suggests a belief that the New Deal has a monopoly on reform and wants nobody else to share in it. For seven years Mr. Roosevelt himself has been making daily use of important reforms introduced by Republican administrations—among them the Sherman anti-trust law, the Pure Food and Drug Act, the Children's Bureau, the executive budget, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

For ourselves, we welcome the fact that Mr. Willkie stands pledged to conserve rather than to destroy what is best in Mr. Roosevelt's reforms. We believe that these reforms would be safe in Mr. Willkie's hands, not only because Mr. Willke is a man of good will but because his approach to the problems now before us shows him to be a liberal.

More than this, we believe that Mr. Willkie could be relied upon not to make some of the mistakes and not to take some of the risks which Mr. Roosevelt has made and taken. For we believe that while Mr. Roosevelt has helped enormously to awaken the social conscience of this country, and that while he deserves lasting credit for this leadership, Mr. Roosevelt has also put his own reforms in peril. He has put them in peril by ignoring or by failing to understand the fundamental problem of increased production; by encouraging great numbers of Americans to believe that it is possible to grow richer by working less and producing less; by fostering the idea that there exists somewhere a great fund of wealth which has only to be divided more equitably in order to make everybody prosperous; by permitting important members of his administration to preach the doctrine of class jealousy and class hatred.

Wealth is only another word for production; and in the long run there is no other way to achieve a higher standard of living for the whole people of a nation than to produce goods in abundance.

We believe that Mr. Willkie understands this crucial point better than Mr. Roosevelt and that he would be more likely to succeed in putting this principle into practice.

III. "THE ROAD TO BANKRUPTCY"

The fantastic silver policy of the Roosevelt administration, scarcely begun in 1936, has now grown to almost incredible proportions. More than 2,000,000,000 ounces of a metal for which our government has no earthly use have been bought by the Treasury at overvalued prices in an artificial market. This policy makes no sense, except as a political maneuver to win the support of the so-called "silver bloc". Otherwise its only visible results have been to drive off the silver standard the one important country which had previously been on it and to take from other nations useless silver in exchange for our own good wheat and oil and motor cars and other exports. There is only one way to describe such a policy as this. It leads over the hills to the poorhouse.

The national budget, which was originally to be balanced so courageously, has been continuously out of balance since Mr. Roosevelt entered office. The national debt has more than doubled in seven years. It is true that the new defense program has now made a balanced budget hopeless at the moment. But even before this program was proposed the administration was operating under a gigantic deficit and spending far more money annually than had ever been raised by taxation in any year in the whole history of the United States. Moreover, the problem of the budget is not less serious, but far more serious, because of the new difficulties presented by the defense program. For the sake of conserving the national credit in a time of danger, expenditures other than those for defense ought now to be cut to a point at which they balance tax yields. But the administration, with whom borrowing has become a habit, has not proposed a single important economy as an offset against its huge defense spending.

We believe that the results of a continuation of this policy will be precisely what Mr. Roosevelt himself said they would be in 1932—"If, like a spendthrift, a nation throws discretion to the winds and is willing to make no sacrifice at all in spending . . . it is on the road to bankruptcy." We believe that there is no real possibility whatever of checking the present trend toward bankruptcy so long as Mr. Roosevelt remains in office. It will be a desperately hard task at best. The only present hope lies in a change of administrations.

IV. THE THIRD TERM ISSUE

We come, finally, in the choice before us to an issue which has been defined by more than a hundred years of American history, by the deliberate decision of some of our greatest Presidents and by the reluctance of many Americans today to surrender what they believe to be a safeguard of the democratic system—the issue of the third term.

As the situation created by the war developed, the President came to regard his own personal leadership as indispensable and to believe that there was no other member of his party, however trusted, however close to him, however deeply in accord with his own convictions about the war or about domestic issues, who could safely take his place.

The doctrine of one man's indispensability is a new doctrine for this country. It is a doctrine which less scrupulous men in Europe have used to root themselves in power. It is a doctrine which we in the United States have good reason to question, particularly when we consider how the powers of the Presidency have grown, what immense patronage, what gigantic expenditures, what enormous power to perpetuate himself in office is now within the grasp of any President of the United States.

These considerations are especially relevant when the particular President who now chooses to remain in office for a third term is the same President who has never surrendered voluntarily a single one of the vast "emergency" powers which Congress has given him. He is the same President who has shown himself so impatient of constitutional restraints that he was willing to circumvent the Supreme Court itself by adding enough members to it to give his own opinions a majority.

In the defeat of Mr. Roosevelt and the election of Mr. Willkie there is an opportunity to safeguard a tradition with the wisdom of long experience behind it.

UPLAND PARENTS GREET TEACHERS

Gathering in the Upland Elementary school auditorium, parents of school children in this district participated in the auspicious opening of P.-T. A. activities for the school year, Tuesday evening, when the first meeting of the Upland Parent-Teacher association was held. The large auditorium was well filled, many of the fathers, as well as the mothers, being present.

Mrs. George Eyer, the president, opened the meeting and Dr. Samuel Hughes, pastor of First Methodist church, gave the invocation.

During the short business session Mrs. L. A. Fox, membership chairman, told of the membership campaign to be conducted from Oct. 14 to Oct. 25, and Mrs. Howard Allen, cafeteria chairman, gave a report of that project, inviting all parents to visit and inspect the cafeteria.

The budget, recently approved by the executive board, was read and adopted. In discussing the association's finances, Mrs. Eyer told of some ways and means projects in which the children, as well as the adults, take part.

The prize for having the largest number of parents in attendance was awarded to Miss Mamie Porter's first grade room, following the roll call.

PROGRAM IS GIVEN

With the business session concluded, Mrs. Eyer introduced Mrs. J. B. McCarter, program chairman, who presided during the presentation of the program.

Led by Miss Evelyn Cross, with Miss Ellen Thorson accompanying at the piano, community singing was enjoyed for a time.

Presented by Mrs. McCarter, the speakers, Ernest Camfield, of the junior high faculty, and Robert Hall, a sixth grade teacher, gave able discussions of the subject, "Can Parents and Teachers Work Together?"

Disregarding the doubt implied in the topic, the two teachers devoted their time to showing in what ways the parent and the teacher can work together and the extensive benefits accruing to themselves and to the pupils through harmonious cooperation.

The viewpoints of both parent and teacher were given by the speakers and they were unanimous in the opinion that close and friendly contact between groups of people promotes understanding and harmony, and under such conditions parents and teachers may work together with profitable results.

Following the program, Miss Jessie Brown, principal of the Elementary school, and Edwin Dean, member of the junior high faculty, introduced the various teachers, all of whom had been presented with corsages and boutonnieres.

Mr. Dean gave a message of regret from Harold W. Cook, superintendent of schools, who was attending a convention in San Diego.

In closing the meeting Mrs. Eyer outlined the work the association hopes to accomplish during the year and expressed deep appreciation of the interest of the parents, as evidenced by the large attendance.

Adjourning to the cafeteria, where an informal reception was held, the parents and teachers united in enjoying a social hour.

The sixth grade mothers were hostesses, with Mrs. Neal Van Dorin serving as chairman. Miss Florence Tarleton, Miss Ellen Thorson and Robert Hall served refreshments from a table beautifully decorated with deep golden Mexican sunflowers and tall orange colored candles.

EMPHASIS SHIFTING TO HOME, BELIEF

Mrs. Una R. Winter, who might be termed one of the "mothers" of the Upland Business and Professional Women's club, and who has continued an active interest in business women for 45 years, believes that there will be an increasing emphasis among business women in the future in their homes and families.

"Now that women have attained near equality, we must turn our attention toward the home. During the last decade when women were making a place for themselves in the business and professional world, it was natural that the greatest emphasis should be placed on careers. We have gone, perhaps, too far, in encouraging all girls to be 'career girls'. While I believe that every girl should be trained in some vocation so that she can earn her living, if necessary, it is desirable if she can choose some work which she can carry on, perhaps in her home, or pick up later when her duties at home become less demanding.

"However, there are certain types of women with such outstanding ability that they will find expression for their talent regardless.

"The colleges are emphasizing the compatability of home and perhaps part-time careers for young women, realizing that too great emphasis on a career is not desirable.

"I believe that the business world will come to recognize this need for part-time careers.

"For public work, however, I feel that it is the middle aged women—women whose children are almost grown, who can make the greatest contribution to society.

"Women in business have exerted a three-fold influence, their presence having promoted cleanliness, refinement and beauty. However, I feel that there is still a need for their influence in demanding greater honesty in business."

Mrs. Winter was one of the real pioneer business women. In Tomah, Wis., where she was employed for seven years, she was the only woman stenographer and bookkeeper. She recalls with amusement how she once sold a car of lumber. All the "bosses" were away, and no one would take the responsibility of quoting a price but Mrs. Winter, then Miss Richardson.

time they can go by air or boat to that refuge.

Hearing frequently from former Chinese students, now stationed in many parts of China, Dr. White is able to reproduce the war picture in his own study.

"A bacteriologist, located in northwest China, writes me that he is making serum to combat many kinds of diseases from Japanese horses, captured by the Chinese guerilla soldiers.

"A letter from another part of China tells me how, despite numerous attempts, the Japanese have been unable to capture the railroad between Canton and Kantow. Japanese control both extremities of the lines, but the middle portion is being operated by Chinese.

"Another letter says that even if China continues to lose the same number of soldiers a month as does Japan (which now amounts to about 20,000), China will ultimately triumph because of her population, which is many times that of Japan.

"Guerilla warfare, at which the Chinese have proved so successful, has been the means of the Chinese replenishing their war supplies. The Chinese wipe out one small unit of Japanese, capturing the supplies of the invaders.

RESEMBLES NAPOLEON WAR

"Japan's conquest of China resembles in many ways Napoleon's conquest of Russia. Then Napoleon found the farther he penetrated, the more his troubles increased. Japan is finding it increasingly difficult to defend her lines of communication, and cannot hold more than three miles or so on each side of the railroads she has captured. Even now she has not conquered more than one-tenth of China's territory."

RUSSIAN RIDDLE

In the opinion of Dr. White, Russia is the "great riddle". Russia may even join with her traditional enemy, Japan, and desert her Communist China ally, if it appears to be the move that will benefit Russia, he thinks.

Although the turmoil abroad is a matter of great concern to Upland's distinguished Dr. White, his home here presents a picture of tranquility. During furloughs spent in this country and since the couple came here to live in 1935, they have built their home themselves at 377 Drake avenue, incorporating in the "retreat" some of the loveliest features of Chinese art and culture.

The round moon gate, topped with two pottery lions and a fish, welcomes you to their terrace and garden. A little white Goddess of Mercy watches over a series of garden pools.

Although every room has its share of Chinese art gems—pottery, carved wood and hand-made teak furniture — the book-lined study is entirely Chinese and is reserved for the rarest pieces.

Mrs. White is also an authority on China and possesses an exceptional collection of Chinese vases. An intriguing array of Chinese teapots decorates one kitchen wall.

Perhaps it is the serene philosophy of the Chinese which permeates the home that makes it so attractive. At any rate, here is evidence that in the Chinese civilization which Dr. and Mrs. White respect, is undoubtedly something which the world needs.

Studies of Bible Prophecy Drawing Large Attendances

Studies in the Book of Revelation being conducted on Monday nights at the Church of the Nazarene by the pastor, the Rev. Will South, have been resumed with the opening of school, and attendance is increasing as the studies are now being taken up with the "churchless world" that will follow the departure of the church, and the "great tribulation" that will set in.

The Rev. Mr. South announces that many of his Sunday evening topics will also fit into the plan of these prophetic studies, including his sermon for this Sunday evening, which will be "Last-Minute Preparation for the Rapture."

The Monday night studies are held from 7 to 8 o'clock.

Let's Keep the Record Straight

GODFREY A. ANDREAS on the Alien Fishing Bill—Andreas voted the Bill out of the Fish and Game Committee of the State Assembly as "Do Pass", and the Bill was killed in Committee.

REPORT ON ALIEN BILL FROM CALIFORNIA STATE FEDERATION OF LABOR

A.B. 336 (by Yorty, Tenney, Waters and Poulson)—This measure if enacted into law would have prohibited some 400 Japanese working out of San Pedro (all members of the American Federation of Labor) from fishing, and would have permitted all other aliens to continue fishing. This bill was, in the judgment of the California State Federation of Labor, a discriminatory bill in which the A. F. of L. members would have been denied the right to fish, while C. I. O. fishermen (the latter also aliens, though of different race) would have been permitted to fish.

Died in Assembly Committee on Fish and Game. An attempt was made to withdraw this bill from committee. Motion lost; ayes 24, noes 40.

UNITED STATES ATTORNEY
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA
May 3, 1939

HONORABLE GODFREY A. ANDREAS
STATE ASSEMBLY
SACRAMENTO, CALIF.
Dear Godfrey:

I wish to congratulate you for your favorable vote in Committee on the alien fishing subject. I now can forgive you for many things. I am glad that you appreciate the seriousness of the situation and now realize from information given your committee that this Bill will tend to strengthen the safety of our people.

I was afraid that if you voted against this Bill it would be necessary for me to take a definite stand against you at the next election on this issue. I am glad now that this issue will not be a part of our next election in our District.

With personal regards, I am
Sincerely yours,
BEN HARRISON.
